Headteacher message –

Here we are already in our last week before half-term and hoping that the weather will start to reflect the fact that we are nearly in June. Thank you to all parents who make sure their children are equipped with jumpers and coats each day so that children are warm and comfortable in their outdoor play.

Last week I enjoyed Covid friendly sessions with pupils talking to them about their learning and looking at their work. I was dazzled by the aspiration showed by Year 6 students who, in their work on aquatic biomes, have completed leaflets on plastic pollution. Their work demonstrated their learning with compelling facts, accurate diagrams and beautiful illustrations and they showed visible pride in what they had achieved. What was even more exciting was the way they talked about the impact this learning had had on them and what they planned to do about it. If our learning in school makes pupils want to take action out of school, we know that we are doing a good job in creating global citizens.

Thank you for your ongoing support in keeping our school safe and open. Please remember and respect Government guidance over half-term so that we can keep on doing what we love doing.
