Dear Parents and Carers

Last week saw the beginning of what is, a really busy time in school (as you will see from the diary dates below). We have lots of exciting things planned, alongside all the normal teaching and learning activities which take place daily. Regular attendance at school has never been more important. Teachers are working hard to identify any gaps or areas of learning which are less secure resulting from lockdowns and time missed due to isolation periods. Alongside this they are teaching the age-related content necessary to ensure that children don't fall behind in relation to their peers nationally. Every day in school is important and every day missed makes a difference.

I understand that we have all been through a destabilizing time and that many of the absences have been beyond our control, but please could I urge you all to ensure that your child is in school, on time every day wherever possible.

Please remember that parent consultations are this week, after school on Tuesday 9th and Wednesday 10th November. Appointments will be online and can be booked through SchoolCloud using this link <https://illogan.schoolcloud.co.uk/>
